Eastern Shore of Virginia Heritage Center Website RFP

Overview

Eastern Shore Public Library (ESPL) invites competitive bids for the creation of a new website, migration of existing content, digital images, and PDFs to a new system for use in the new website, and ongoing redirects for existing URLs/URIS to the new domain.

Background

Saving Eastern Shore of Virginia history has become important to the community. The Eastern Shore of Virginia Heritage Center (the Center) will house archives, a research room, lecture hall, MakerSpace, and provide online access to historical documents that can be freely accessed by the public. The Eastern Shore Heritage Center requires a website dedicated to providing online access to the historic documents in its holding. This will give the Center the opportunity to usher in a new era for the study of Eastern Shore history.
Goals and Objectives

Create a new website for the Eastern Shore of Virginia Heritage Center

The Center requires a new website with a dedicated domain name. The site should focus on the digital collections of ESHC. ESPL is looking for a clean, modern design that is easy for users to navigate.

The ESHC collection should be able to connect to the Digital Public Library of America (DPLA) Digital Virginias hub to expand the user base and connect with a well-established, national center for digital history.

Components:

Search and navigation

The public facing deployment will have intuitive search capability with ease of use by the general public. Researchers will be able to view digitized items easily from mobile devices as well as desktop computers and laptops.

Ensure ESPL staff has the ability to update the site with new content

ESPL staff will access the system through an “internal” read/write deployment, giving them the ability to upload, edit, search, organize and curate their content. These changes will not be made public until they are “published” on the external read-only deployment. The external read-only deployment will be public facing, allowing researchers to access all published content.

Consolidate web content storage

ESPL currently has digital content stored in WordPress, GoDaddy, MilesFiles, etc. depending on the size of the content and the restrictions of the web publisher. The vendor will consolidate web content storage to one system that offers server storage for all digital collections held by the Center.

Volunteers produce the content hosted on MilesFiles. An example of the output data is in Appendix A. The output data from the volunteers should be able to be incorporated into the new site. ESPL staff should be able to upload the output data into the new site as the collection grows.

Provide ongoing redirects

It is imperative that all redirects for the new site have ongoing redirects for all existing URLs/URIs. The Center has been deeply embedded in genealogy and other research sites. These sites have the existing URLs/URIs and drive significant traffic. Ongoing redirects for existing URLs/URIs are necessary to ensure users will continue to find the content they rely upon.
Project Timeline

Design, Build, Migration, Testing: ESPL estimates a 7-month timeline for the design, creation, migration of content, and testing of the new site. The project is dependent upon grant funding. If the grant is awarded to ESPL, the project will begin approximately one month after the award date (estimated August 2021).

Storage Term: Ongoing storage fees for the Center’s collections should be proposed in both 1-year and 3-year terms.

Budget

Design, Build, Migration, Testing: The ESPL budget is dependent upon grant funding. Proposals with the lowest bid will be given preference. Bids should not exceed $15,000.

Storage: ESPL will require on-going hosted storage of the Center’s collection as part of the annual fees. Storage costs and annual fees should be proposed in both 1-year and 3-year terms.
