

EASTERN SHORE PUBLIC LIBRARY ANNOUNCES CHANGES IN HOURS AND TRUSTEE MEETING DATES

(ACCOMAC, VIRGINIA) September 13, 2022 – Eastern Shore Public Library’s (ESPL) staff and trustees are preparing for the transition to the new regional library in Parksley, Virginia. In order to minimize the total contiguous closing days during the move, library staff have chosen to close once a week for moving preparation spread out over the coming weeks. The goal is to minimize the impact on public services. Starting Monday, September 19, the central library in Accomac will be closed on Mondays. All other locations in Chincoteague, Nassawadox, and Cape Charles will be open regular hours.

Beginning September 19, the Eastern Shore Room at the Accomac library will be closed on Wednesdays and Saturdays, as well as Mondays. Assistance with local history questions can still be directed to heritage@espl.org. Also, the other ESPL locations have small local history materials that meet some research needs.

Additionally, all ESPL locations will be closed on Tuesday, September 27 for staff training. Accomac library will be closed the evening of September 27 as well.

While the move and opening dates for the new regional library are not set, staff want to be ready when the anxiously awaited time does arrive. Office and storage spaces need to be organized and labeled for the movers. Books need to be shifted. Outdated or broken items need to be trashed. Staff also need to be trained for more active public service needs and new equipment. ESPL appreciates the public’s patience for any inconveniences these preparations may cause. Readers’s library accounts can be viewed at home by logging into their online account on ShoreCat at espl.org.
